

Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies

The Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies are light remedies or vibrational frequencies. All living beings carry a vibrational field of consciousness: stones, plants, animals and humans. Humans have the most complex fields, including feeling, mental and emotional fields as well as fields of consciousness of our life purpose in many colour variants. A human being also carries the history of this current life and previous lives in his fields. Painful emotions or emotional blockages as well as happy experiences are stored in these fields, even though these are mainly unconscious. We only become aware or remember when someone asks a question or the fields in which this information is stored become activated. The light vibrations in a Healing Arts remedy bring certain fields into vibration so that people suddenly become aware of an emotion, a thought or a physical pain. That thought carries in it a certain idea about life, for example: 'I don't get the love that I really deserve'. The light remedies help you to become aware of such ideas and to change them in such a way that is more in accordance with love for yourself and love of life. The bottles carry a vibrational field in them that help us to Be in connection with the self healing capacity of the I Am. The Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies can clear old fields as well as activate new fields of consciousness whereby consciousness expands along with an increasing field of love and insight into the greater whole. The Healing Arts help you to expand heart consciousness and live in harmony with your own inner knowing. Love, Being, creative power are here and now. For this you just need to be yourself.

Light is consciousness

The light remedies each have their own vibrational field and we can put this into words/voice this from out of the field of healing and energetic curing. Then we speak about the energetic blueprint of the body or auric field that is present inside, around and throughout the body - the aura as subtle field that steers the physical body, determines how the physical body works. Higher light vibrations in the bottles clear the lower vibrational frequencies of the emotional blockages. So then the aura is cleansed of old karmic burdens and the light structures or blueprints for the organs, tissues, bones and blood vessels are changed. Light has a direct relationship with consciousness. Higher light vibrations generate consciousness that resonates more with the I Am and has an overarching perspective on the great lines of life, the real nature of being human and the possibilities for healing, transformation and transmutation.

The Healing Arts have a strongly grounding effect: you are connected with the light energy in the earth and the light drops bring you totally into your body. This grounded connection is a requirement for bringing 'heaven on earth': we live who we really are and bring our love frequencies into matter.

The Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies are made using water as the basic carrier of information and brandy as a natural preservative. The frequencies were all inspired by Light Beings and have been prepared in co-operation with these Light Beings. The Liquid Light Frequencies are based on light geometry as the blueprint for physical reality.

Healing Arts Therapy

The light remedies open up fields of information in the client's consciousness. The conscious awareness of the client is 'stretched'; the light remedies help the client to receive information through their subtle senses of clairvoyance, clairaudience, clear-sentience, clear smelling and knowing.

These information fields embrace the client's childhood as well as their previous lives, which may go back to the times of Atlantis and Lemuria or the origins of the earth. The light remedies also cover the information fields beyond the earth: they activate the light energy and thus the client's awareness of galactic energies and incarnations on planets and stars with a higher vibrational frequency than the earth. With the aid of the therapist the client gets greater insight into the totality of his incarnations and, in one or more sessions, is supported to experience the Wholeness and then to manifest this totality of Being in his or her daily life.

Healing Arts therapy is based on the following starting points:

The approach works with the information from the client's inner life. The client brings forth this information and through his or her level of consciousness the therapist provides safety for the client to trust and assign meaning to the sometimes seemingly surprising information; feeling and fully experiencing what happens in the body through the inner information that is revealed. This is an essential aspect of the work for permanently dissolving old blockages and integrating the higher frequencies in the body. Thus the body is 'rebuilt' energetically. The energetic information is holistic and holographic in nature. Body, Soul and Spirit are involved in the healing and each individual healing contributes to building the morphogenetic field of wholeness and love

The goal of healing is always to generate higher frequencies of light in the client, or in other words, to facilitate the Higher Self integrating deeper into the physical body so as to experience more love, happiness and passion for life. Grounding of the higher light energy right down into the cellular structures, in every fibre of the body is a fundamental aspect of this approach in order for the client to be able to live the new energy. A therapist will attract people for the steps in evolution of consciousness that he himself has encountered and worked through.

The concepts which belong within Healing Arts Therapy include: healing at the level of the inner child, clearing energetic chords that bind through time and space, healing the family tree, healing of abductions, breaking sixth dimensional contracts, restoration of your own angel nature, working together with the dragon energies and other subtle beings like elves and dwarves, capacity to create from the Elohim and whale consciousness, and the Kabbalah as an aid to materialising an impulse or idea. The Healing Arts therapy is really about the art of healing!

Practical applications

More and more clients (children!!) are able to choose the appropriate light remedy themselves and can sense immediately which remedy they want to work with and in which order. As therapist and healer you guide the client's process of receiving insight and healing through your own consciousness, experience and unconditional love. The light frequencies are held by the client during a session, or ingested, spread on the body or held in the aura. At the close of the session the therapist tests whether a light remedy should be taken internally for a longer period. Ingesting it is essential. At this time the physical body needs to go along with the higher frequencies of consciousness. The light drops activate the body's own intelligence, the light vibrations of the cells. This means that the cells gain the same frequency as human consciousness and that cells also radiate light and start to behave according to the laws of light rather than the laws of matter. It is however possible to dilute the drops for ingestion. When giving a massage a few drops may be added to the massage oil. The remedies are suitable for babies and highly sensitive people. The light remedies can be combined with homoeopathic, herbal and orthomolecular remedies, and they do not interfere with the actions of allopathic medicines.

Usage together with all disciplines

The Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies can also be used with a variety of other forms of treatment: for example naturopathy, foot reflexology, acupuncture or N.E.I. They have also been incorporated into the latest versions of the SCIO and Indigo devices. Using the light remedies helps therapists to bring about healing at a deeper level, and the healing process happens quicker with greater insight on the part of the client.

The client is more able to do his own work on the problem and in addition a healing requires less energy from the therapist. The Healing Arts are potent frequencies and are recommended only to therapists who have the intention to work from a state of beingness, unconditional love or the Christ Consciousness.

Applications of the Healing Arts

*For illness

The Healing Arts can be used for diverse psychosomatic complaints to support the client's self-healing capacity. Examples are ME, burn out, eczema, severe headache, asthma, ADHD, forms of autism, and many other psychological or sometimes more physical symptoms in both adults and children.

*Working with children

The Healing arts can be a tremendous support for the children born at this time, enabling them to feel more at home on earth because their own already high vibrational frequency is strengthened by the light remedies. Children can choose 'the bottles' they wish to work with themselves and rediscover their feelings, their love and their truth. The Healing Arts remedies provide children with useful insights into their own nature and what they are here to do. The grounding and filling themselves with their own sun energy make them no longer afraid of the astral world, among other things. See the article about this on the website www.healingarts.nl.

A number of teachers are using the Healing Arts Frequencies with children in the classroom. This raises their concentration level and helps them feel more inner calmness.

*Birth and Death

The light energy carried by the Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies support both the passage from the higher dimensions to earth, which we call birth, as well as the transition from earth to the higher planes, which we call 'dying' from our earthly perspective. Birth progresses with more ease since the incarnating soul recognises the light frequencies from whence he comes and can therefore incarnate more easily. The dying process occurs more quietly and happily since the soul in its physical body can experience all the love vibrations from the higher dimension of 'after death', so that he can leave the body more calmly.

*Animals and plants

The Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies are also useful for animals, plants, woods and houses. An animal can be helped to re-member its soul nature with the Healing Arts. All living systems can function better through the Healing Arts: their vibrational frequency rises, their vitality increases and they are able to reconnect with the devas and other subtle beings.

The various series and sprays

Boxes of Healing Arts

The Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies consist of various series each with 12 light remedies, 12 bottles of 10 ml together in a box. The bottles serve as test remedies as well as for treatment purposes. Each box or series covers a specific field of information and is supplied with a short and a detailed description. The short description is intended for the client to support their process of developing awareness. These descriptions can also be found on the website www.healingarts.nl. The longer description is for the therapist and provides with more background and greater insight into the field that is activated by the remedy in the client. This expands the therapist's field of consciousness.

The boxes are suitable for both therapeutic work and for individual usage. In the latter case the person works through each remedy in the box consecutively so that the healing and evolutionary process unfolds intuitively step by step. Working with a therapist helps one access and heal the major life issues which are charged with lots of fear or other emotions. The individual light remedies can be ordered separately via the web shop (see under Sales).

As the vibrational frequencies with which we can and may work on earth at the moment are increasing, so the light remedies are also of an ever higher frequency with deeper effects on the physical body. At the present time there are 12 series available. These can be divided into two main series: the first six boxes are about healing the karmic information from previous and current incarnations. The subsequent boxes are about a stepwise process of enabling the consciousness and the physical body to integrate the higher light frequencies relating to 2012 and to open us up to all the new possibilities that accompany that. The Healing Arts series are meant for both experienced light workers as well as for those who have just begun to remember the power of their own light. The light frequencies are 'intelligent' living databanks that open up the light field for which the receiver is ready. See also the website www.healingarts.nl for a detailed description of each series.

The first six boxes are called Aurora I and II, Aurigena, Transluca, El-Eloha en Chrystael.

The following six boxes are Alchemama I and II, Pathara-Ma I and II, Living Grail and Living Arc.

The Sprays

There are several sprays for daily usage that have been available since 2008. A spray is a 30 ml bottle with a nozzle that can be used broadly for grounding, concentration, stress reduction, feeling the body, trusting yourself, relaxing into sleep, overcoming jet lag etc. Spray in the aura or in the mouth.

Grounding Rescue:
is for grounding, relaxation and connection with the I Am.

I am 1 ♥:
for feeling the oneness with yourself and others, heart connection, being spontaneously yourself.

Rainbow Frequencies:
connecting to your feelings, your own truth and being present in your body.

New sprays will be announced on www.healingarts.nl

Background to Healing Arts

The light remedies have been developed by Joanne van Wijgerden. She works with energetic medicine. The frequencies have grown out of her love for the spirit realms, the world of sound, sacred geometry and alchemy. Joanne sees herself as a pioneer in bringing the higher vibrational frequencies to earth and grounds them. Usage of the light remedies by larger number of the public changes the collective field. Joanne has an academic background and has been trained in the areas of healing and spirituality. Since 1997 she has been working as healer and teacher, giving lectures, workshops and trainings for therapists. Before that she worked for fifteen years as a management consultant and therapist.

Courses

The Healing Arts Therapy is based on the field of activity of the Healing Arts Liquid Light Frequencies. There are various courses:

Basic Course:

A one-day course on the actions of the various light remedies, insight into the inter-relationship between light energy and consciousness, insight into the metaphysics of the light remedies and their practical applications.

Advanced courses I, II and III:

The themes covered in Advanced Course I (six days) are the healing and re-integration of stellar and galactic consciousness in the various earthly incarnations, rewriting family karma, the childhood years and the current lifetime, and healing the morphogenetic fields of the earth.

Advanced Course II (six days) covers grounding in other conscious realities, both extra-terrestrial realities and the world of the shaman; the healing and re-connection with planetary incarnations in the body of this current life, healing the non-friendly contacts with extra-terrestrial energies and releasing entities.

Advanced course III (four days) is about acting as a creator through being the I Am or Elohim consciousness.

In all these advanced courses you will learn to work on the basis of your own intuition, your evolving consciousness and your synchronous process of becoming whole.

Dates of the current courses, detailed course information and prices can be found on the website:

www.healingarts.nl.

The advanced courses are given by Joanne van Wijgerden at least once a year.

In addition a number of teachers of Healing Arts give the basic course, as well as their own advanced courses based on their specific background and inspiration: www.healingarts.nl/courses/otherteachers

Joanne also gives courses abroad.

SCIO/INDIGO

It was about two years ago that the opportunity arose to have the light remedies included in the SCIO, a quantum biofeedback device that measures energetically and treats on physical, emotional, mental and physical levels.

Meanwhile the SCIO is being replaced by the INDIGO (www.scionl.nl) and the remedies have indeed been incorporated into the matrix – up until now the first 8 boxes. Meanwhile the last 4 boxes together with the 3 sprays have been handed over to be scanned in.

Website

www.healingarts.nl or www.liquidlightremedies.com offer a detailed website with:

- ☺ Web shop
- ☺ Short films on various topics
- ☺ Information about new series
- ☺ Short descriptions of all the remedies (page on web shop) in Dutch and English
- ☺ Up to date course information with registration
- ☺ List of therapists working with Healing Arts
- ☺ Newsletters: subscribe to free newsletter
- ☺ Articles
- ☺ A detailed literature list for further study (on courses page)

A large proportion of the website is available in English.
